It was all about performance worthy clothes at Falguni and Shane Peacock and even more fitting that they were showing the same day as the Grammy's. Gowns only worthy of a stage were the mainstay in their Fall Winter 2012 collection.

Maximum cut outs, tribal digital prints on chiffon with peep hole cut outs, velvet cut cat suits and embroidered feathered minis the grouping was wow after wow after wow. As a fashion editor I realize that everything cannot be easy ready-to-wear and Falguni and Peacock was a welcome break into a world of fantasy fashion. The shoes by Gil Carvalho and makeup by Mehron made the entire look that much stronger.
